

1. The teaching approach is a success because the information that is relayed to me from you is well accepted. You also reinforce what has been said in class through your emails, reminding us of due dates and upcoming in-class assignments. Your methods of teaching are very effective because you use the tools that our generation is constantly utilizing on a daily basis, and that is technology.
 2. Angel is a great tool that has been created to help students keep up in class outside of the class. It also reminds us of due dates and any upcoming assignments. When the lectures are posted, it allows us to go back and reread what we discussed in class. That permits us to clarify any misunderstandings that may have arisen during the initial lecture.
 3. I heavily use technology and Angel within this course so that you can keep track of topics we speak about in class. Angel and the other uses of technology is free of charge compared to the use of textbooks and the wasting of ink to print papers, that'll eventually be thrown away.
- b. This class is a college class just like your other class. The work may be tedious but the effort is still required to achieve the grade you wish to get in class. I have posted presentations and videos on utilizing organizational and time management skills. You should go back and plan your schedule accordingly.
- c. If you feel I am disorganized and I don't always know what to do, then you should make a lesson plan and teach the class.
- d. You have to open yourself up to different learning utensils. Everything we do will not always be within our comfort zone. As adults you have to learn to adjust and succeed in different environments.
